

Donors' Guide to Granting

With a Donor Advised Fund at Calgary Foundation, you can make an impact on organizations and causes that matter to you.

With so many worthy causes to choose from, we'll help you focus your generosity on what matters most to you—so your support makes the greatest impact.

This guide describes how and when you can make successful grant recommendations, outlines what you can expect from us along the way, and offers valuable resources to assist you in achieving your charitable goals.

Who can recommend grants?

Grant recommendations can be made by:

- Fund Founder(s)
- Designated Fund Advisors (i.e. individuals authorized in writing by the Fund Founders, such as Fund successor family members or personal representatives)

How much can I grant?

To help ensure organizations receive valuable benefits, while reducing proportionate processing costs, we recommend grants of no less than $250.

Donor Advised Endowment Funds

Like all registered charities, we are required by law to distribute a percentage of our pooled assets annually. At the end of each fiscal year, Calgary Foundation's Board of Directors determines the distribution rate for our Endowment Funds for the upcoming fiscal year, with the goal of maximizing what we give to the community while preserving the value of our endowment over time. After the distribution rate has been affirmed, we calculate the new fiscal year's spendable balance for each Fund and notify you shortly thereafter.

Donor Advised Flow Through Funds

The full balance of the Fund can be granted at any time. If new gifts are made into the Fund, we ask that no more than 80 per cent of the Fund's balance subsequently be distributed for a period of approximately four to six weeks, until we can properly account for the new gifts and any accompanying costs (i.e. cost recovery, credit card processing fees, brokerage commissions).

Who can receive grants?

Donor Advised Funds at Calgary Foundation must grant to qualified donees for charitable purposes as defined by the Canada Revenue Agency. Qualified donees are organizations that can issue official Canadian tax receipts for gifts. There are approximately 86,000 qualified donees in Canada from which you can choose, including:

- Registered Canadian charities
- Registered Canadian amateur athletic associations
- Canadian municipal, provincial, territorial, and federal governments
- Certain universities outside of Canada
- Registered journalism organizations

When can I recommend grants?

Anytime during the Foundation's fiscal year (April 1 to March 31). Grants are generally processed twice a month, all year long. Donor Advised Flow Through Fund grants can be recommended throughout the year, noting the November 30 exception.*

Donor Advised Endowment Fund (DAEF) Grant Recommendation Process

April-May

Calgary Foundation calculates amount available to grant for the fiscal year and sends you confirmation of the spendable balance.

*November 30

Deadline for grant recommendations for funds to be disbursed before the end of the calendar year in time for holiday support.

February 28

Deadline for DAEF grant recommendations for the fiscal year.

March

Grant processing is completed for the fiscal year. If grants are not recommended during any given fiscal year, or if only a portion of the available funds are used, any remaining balance will not be available to be carried forward for granting in a future year. The unused amount will remain in the balance of the Fund.

We are unable to support:

- Sponsorships
- Memberships
- Unregistered non-profit organizations
- International charities not registered in Canada
- Unregistered sports groups and professional sports organizations
- Individuals (except for pre-established Calgary Foundation Student Awards)
- Grants that privately benefit donors or anyone not at arm's length to donors (i.e. family, friends, business associates)

Making multi-year or ongoing grants

Donor Advised Endowment Fund Advisors might recommend that a specific grantee(s) receive a grant for a defined number of years or indefinitely during their lifetime. These grants can be issued automatically on an annual basis, with no need to provide a grant recommendation each year.

Please note: Fund Advisors should be cautioned when relying on spendable dollars to fulfill commitments of fixed amounts in future years. Funds are subject to fluctuating values in the endowment portfolio and might not have stable amounts available to grant from year to year. Because these assets have been gifted to Calgary Foundation, we must enter into signed agreements with grantees for commitments involving Calgary Foundation Funds; otherwise, Fund Advisors are personally responsible for ensuring their pledges are upheld.

Setting grants in motion

Calgary Foundation distributes grants after the middle and end of each month. In keeping with this schedule, we strive to process grant recommendations in a timely manner, within two to four weeks of receiving them.

1. Review and approve

Your recommendations are reviewed to ensure the following:

- Available fund balances
- Qualified donee status with Canada Revenue Agency
- Charitable purposes.

If these requirements are not met, we will contact you.

2. Process and distribute

Grant payments are issued to grantees electronically or mailed directly from our financial institution. Grantees are notified of the grant and advised on how it is to be used and recognized. We ask that the Fund's name and Calgary Foundation be recognized together—unless anonymity is requested.

3. Post on DonorCentral

Recommended grants can be viewed on DonorCentral once they have been approved and processed—usually within two to four weeks of submission.

4. Forward grant acknowledgements

Thank-you letters and acknowledgements from grantees—whether received by mail or email—will be forwarded to you within one to two months of our receipt. Additional items such as invitations and reports addressed to the Fund will also be shared. We generally do not forward solicitations or broad communications, such as newsletters.

Working with Calgary Foundation in the community

Fund Advisors who wish to leverage the impact of a grant often choose to recommend grants that align with those being made by Calgary Foundation through one or more of our granting programs. Confidential lists of organizations seeking funding through our Community Grants program will be provided to you in the spring and fall. You can also recommend support for our Community Fund to help fund as many great applicants as possible.
